Summary

A confident and pragmatic self-taught developer who aims to achieve his goals with the utmost energy, passion and dedication. I take initiative and strive to go above and beyond the call of duty wherever possible. I am always keen to gain more knowledge regarding web development and wish to work alongside more experienced developers to improve and refine existing skills. I have great communication skills, work well as part of a team and also have experience working with clients to deliver features and websites.

Skills & Expertise

HTML5, CSS3, Bootstrap 4, Javascript (Vanilla JS, JS libraries & frameworks), NodeJS, Angular, Express, MongoDB, jQuery, APIs, Git/Github, MySQL, PHP.

Relevant Experience

- I built a feature for their website where the buyer can input their design as an image and preview their takeaway cup as a 3D model before purchase.
- Created with: jQuery, Three.js, Fabric.js, Blender (3D modelling software), HTML5 & CSS.

Personal Projects

Portfolio Website (September '17 - February '18)

- Created unique personal projects to showcase skills gained and developed through online courses and other resources - available to view on www.filipzindovic.com.
- Undertook and completed several courses on Udemy as well as reading books (see education & achievements).
- Key skills gained:
 - Experience with front- and back-end languages as well as libraries and frameworks.
 - Learned about the importance of clean and maintainable code.

- Increased competence in advanced Javascript concepts such as scope, closures and callback functions.
- Gained familiarity with Github code repository and Git commands.
- Worked with different APIs.
- Used modern CSS practices such as media queries and keyframe animations to add aesthetic appeal to pages and create a responsive design.
- Projects created with: Vanilla JS, NodeJS, Express, Google & Darksky APIs, Bootstrap, HTML5 & CSS.
